Creating a culture of health in the community

The Action Cycle shows how to create healthy communities. The rankings later in the document assist in understanding what makes a healthy community.

The Community Health Assessment (CHA) uses systematic, comprehensive data collection and analysis to define priorities for health improvement, creates a collaborative community environment to engage stakeholders, and an open and transparent process to listen and truly understand the health needs of Dodge and Jefferson Counties, Wisconsin.

This CHA was conducted by the Dodge-Jefferson Healthier Community Partnership which is comprised of: Beaver Dam Community Hospital, the Dodge County Human Services and Health Department, Fort HealthCare, Greater Watertown Community Health Foundation, Jefferson County Health Department, Watertown Department of Public Health, and Watertown Regional Medical Center, referred to as “the Partnership.”

2019 Community Health Assessment

This document is a hospital facility-specific Community Health Assessment (CHA) for Watertown Regional Medical Center.

Dodge-Jefferson Healthier Community Partnership as the sponsors of the assessment, engaged national leaders in community health assessments to assist in the project. Stratasan, a healthcare analytics and facilitation company based out of Nashville, Tennessee, provided the analysis of community health data and surveys, facilitated the focus groups, conducted the interviews and facilitated a community health summit to receive community input into the priorities and brainstorm goals and actions the community could take to improve health.

- Starting on October 21, 2019, this report is made widely available to the community via Watertown Regional Medical Center's website WatertownRegional.com and paper copies are available free of charge at Watertown Regional Hospital, 125 Hospital Dr., Watertown, WI 53098 or by phone 920-261-4210.
- Watertown Regional Medical Center's board of directors approved this assessment and the hospital's implementation plan on October 8, 2019.

Project Goals

To continue a formal and comprehensive community health assessment process which allows for the identification and prioritization of significant health needs of the community to assist with resource allocation, informed decision-making and collective action that will improve health.

To continue a collaborative partnership between all stakeholders in the community by seeking input from persons who represent the broad interests of the community. "We initiated the Community Health Assessment with the goal to assess the health and needs of the community. This process is an affirmation of what we've been doing to improve health and has jumpstarted our next implementation plan," said Richard Keddington, CEO Watertown Regional Medical Center. "The information gathered both from public health data and from community stakeholders provided the insight the community needed to set priorities for significant health issues and will be used by the community to inform and support our implementation plans," added Carol Quest, Watertown Public Health Officer/Director.

Input and Collaboration

Data Collection and Timelines

In March 2019, Dodge-Jefferson Healthier Community Partnership began a Community Health Assessment for Dodge and Jefferson Counties. The Partnership sought input from persons who represent the broad interests of the community using several methods:

- Information gathering, using secondary public health sources, occurred in March 2019.
- An online survey of community members was conducted March 15 – May 1, 2019.
- An online survey of Watertown Regional Medical Center and Fort Healthcare employees and community physicians was conducted April 1– April 29, 2019.
- 48 community members representing a broad range of groups (not-for-profit organizations, medically underserved, low-income, minority populations, elderly, health providers, education providers, and the health departments participated in three focus groups and individual interviews for their perspectives on community health needs and issues on April 24th and 25th, 2019.
- A Community Health Summit was conducted on May 9, 2019 with 80 community stakeholders. The audience consisted of healthcare providers, business leaders, government representatives, schools, not-for-profit organizations, employers and other community members.

Information Gaps

While this assessment was quite comprehensive, it cannot measure all possible aspects of health in the community, nor can it adequately represent all possible populations of interest. It must be recognized that these information gaps might in some ways limit the ability to assess all the community's health needs.

Participants

One hundred twenty-eight individuals from seventy-two community and healthcare organizations collaborated to implement a comprehensive CHA process focused on identifying and defining significant health needs, issues, and concerns of Dodge and Jefferson Counties. The three-month process centered on gathering and analyzing data as well as receiving input from persons who represented the broad interests of the community to provide direction for the community and hospital to create a plan to improve the health of the communities.

Input of the Medically Underserved, Low-Income, and Minority Populations

Input of medically underserved, low-income and minority populations was received during the focus groups, interviews, surveys, and the Community Health Summit. Agencies representing these population groups were intentionally invited to the focus groups, interviews and Summit. Additionally, the community survey was distributed through the health departments and other agencies serving the low-income, medically underserved and minority populations. The community survey was representative of the whole community – by age, income, and education.

Input of those with Expertise in Public Health

Representatives of the Dodge and Jefferson County and City of Watertown Department of Public Health Departments participated in the focus groups, interviews as well as planning, presenting and attending the Summit.

Community Engagement and Transparency

We are pleased to share the results of the Community Health Assessment with the rest of the community in hopes of attracting more advocates and volunteers to improve the health of Dodge and Jefferson Counties. The following pages highlight key findings of the assessment. We hope you will take the time to review the health needs of our community as the findings impact each and every citizen in one way or another; and join in the improvement efforts.

2018 Population by Census Tract and Change (2018-2023)

Source: ESRI

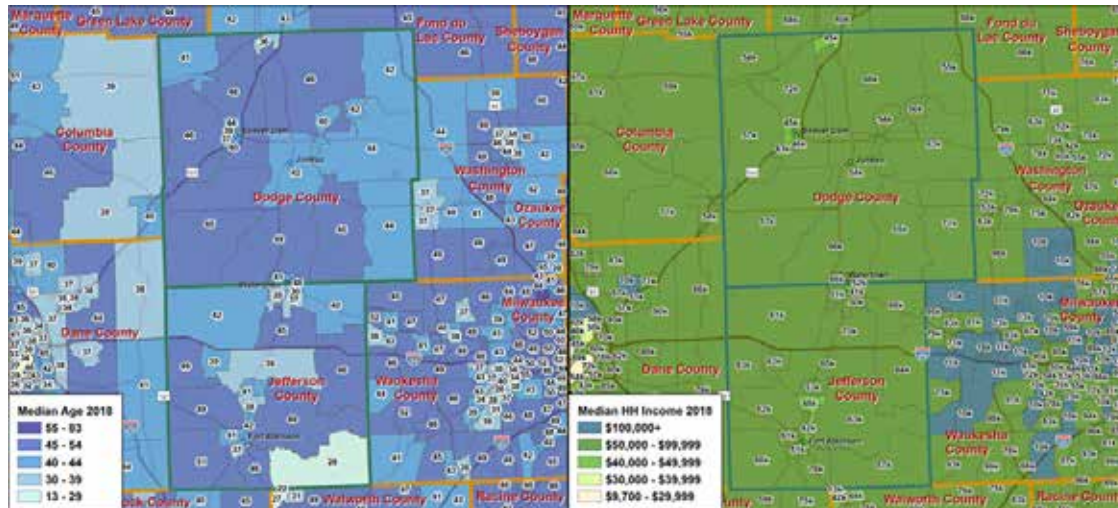

- Red is population decline
- Yellow is positive up to the WI growth rate
- Green is greater than the WI growth rate
- Dark green is twice the WI growth rate

Census tracts generally have a population size between 1,200 and 8,000 people, with an optimum size of 4,000 people.

Dodge County's population was projected to increase from 2018 to 2023, 0.16% per year. However, there are a few census tracts where the population was projected to decline, one in the northern part of the county in Waupun, two tracts to the west and one in the southeast corner. There was one census tract expected to grow up to the WI growth rate in the southern part of Dodge County.

Jefferson County's population was projected to increase 0.37% per year. All census tracts, except one were projected to increase. One census tract in the south of the county was projected to decline. A census tract in the northeast corner is projected to grow more than twice the WI growth rate.

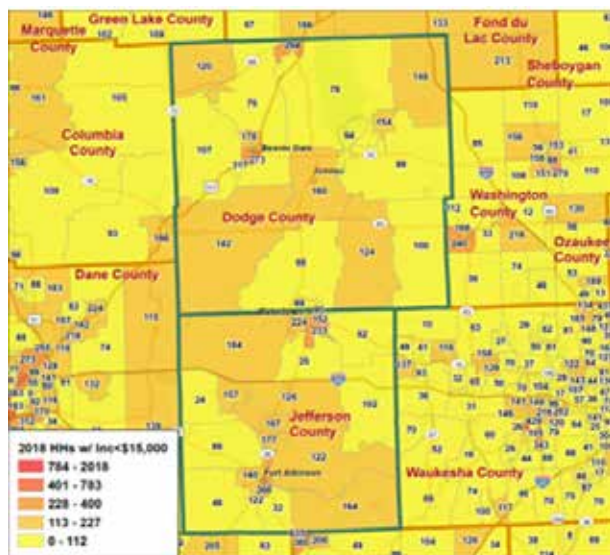

2018 Median Age & Income

Source: ESRI

These maps depict median age and median income by census tract. Looking at age and income by census tract is helpful to demonstrate all areas of a county are not the same. The health needs may be very different in the southwest corner of Jefferson County with a median age of 51 and the census tract in the southeast corner with a median age of 26.

Looking at median household income by census tract also gives insight into health status. The lower income areas may require more assistance than the higher income tracts. The two counties have fairly even median incomes.

The lower map is the number of households making less than $15,000 per year. Again, further attempting to identify those areas within the county that may have lower health status.

Description of the Communities Served

Additionally, Dodge County's February 2019 preliminary unemployment was 3.1% and Jefferson's was 3.4% compared to 2.9% for Wisconsin and 3.8% for the U.S., which is a large decline in unemployment since 2014. These figures do not include those who have ceased looking for work and dropped out of the workforce. However, indications are these people have begun to reenter the workforce.

It is beneficial to contact people in groups to improve health. There are three primary places people gather during the week, work, church and school. These are three excellent places to reach people to create a culture of health.

Tapestry Segmentation

Demographics are population, age, sex, race. Psychographics are adding behavior data in the form of spending habits and survey data on top of demographics. 49% of Dodge and Jefferson Counties are included in three Tapestry Segments. The map below is color coded by LifeMode, which are groupings of Tapestry Segments that behave similarly.

The dominant Tapestry Segments in the counties were Green Acres (20%), Salt of the Earth (16%), and Middleburg (13%). The map below demonstrates the dominant Tapestry Segment by census tract.

There is a very brief description of the segments on the right of the map. There is much more information on Tapestry Segments, at doc.arcgis.com/en/esri-demographics/data/tapestry-segmentation.htm. Studying the Tapestry Segments in the study area helps determine health habits and communication preferences of residents enabling more effective communication and implementation of solutions to improve health. Many spoke of meeting people where they are in the focus group and interviews. Studying their Tapestry Segment can help do that.

Health Status Data, Rankings & Comparisons

Health Status Data

Based on the 2018 County Health Rankings study performed by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and the University of Wisconsin², Dodge County ranked 35th healthiest County in Wisconsin out of the 72 counties ranked (1= the healthiest; 72 = unhealthiest), 37th for health outcomes and 34th for health factors. Jefferson County ranked 18th healthiest county in Wisconsin, 15th for health outcomes and 22nd for health factors.

County Health Rankings suggest the areas to explore for improvement in Dodge County were: higher adult smoking, higher adult obesity percentage, lower percentage of adults with some college and higher percentage of excessive drinking. The areas of strength were identified as lower percentage of physical inactivity, lower alcohol-impaired driving deaths, lower teen births, lower uninsured, lower preventable hospital stays, lower unemployment, lower children in poverty, and lower income inequality.

County Health Rankings suggest the areas to explore for improvement in Jefferson County were: higher adult smoking, higher adult obesity percentage, higher excessive drinking, higher population per primary care physician and higher air pollution. The areas of strength were identified as lower percentage of physical inactivity, lower teen births, lower uninsured, lower preventable hospital stays, higher mammography screening and higher flu vaccinations, higher percentage of adults with some college, lower unemployment, lower percentage of children in poverty, and lower income inequality.

When analyzing the health status data, local results were compared to Wisconsin, the U.S. (where available), and the top 10% of counties in the U.S. (the 90th percentile). Where Dodge and Jefferson Counties' results were worse than WI and U.S., groups and individuals have an opportunity to act and improve these community measures. To become the healthiest community in Wisconsin and eventually the Nation, Dodge and Jefferson Counties must close several lifestyle gaps. For additional perspective, Wisconsin was ranked the 23rd healthiest state out of the 50 states. (Source: 2018 America's Health Rankings) Wisconsin strengths were low levels of air pollution, high percentage of high school graduation, low percentage of uninsured population. Wisconsin challenges were high prevalence of excessive drinking, high incidence of pertussis, low per capita public health funding.

²The Rankings are based on a model of population health that emphasizes the many factors that, if improved, can help make communities healthier places to live, learn, work and play. Building on the work of America's Health Rankings, the University of Wisconsin Population Health Institute has used this model to rank the health of Wisconsin's counties every year since 2003.

Comparison of Health Status

Information from County Health Rankings and America's Health Rankings was analyzed in the CHA in addition to the previously reviewed information and other public health data. Other data analyzed is referenced in the bullets below, such as: causes of death, demographics, socioeconomics, consumer health spending, focus groups, and surveys. Data for Wisconsin, the U.S. or the top 10% of counties (90th percentile) were used as comparisons when available. If a measure was better than Wisconsin, it was identified as a strength, and where an indicator was worse than Wisconsin, it was indicated an opportunity for improvement. To prevent strengths from becoming opportunities for improvement, it's important to continually focus on them. Opportunities were denoted with red symbols, and strengths were denoted with green stars for easy interpretation. The years displayed on the County Health Rankings graphs show the year the data was released. The actual years of the data are contained in the source notes below the graphs.

Health Outcomes (Length of Life and Quality of Life)

Health Outcomes are a combination of length of life and quality of life measures. Dodge County ranked 37th and Jefferson County ranked 15th in Health Outcomes out of 72 Wisconsin counties.

Length of Life

Length of life was measured by years of potential life lost per 100,000 population prior to age 75, lower is better. For example, if a 25-year-old is killed in an accident, that is 50 years of potential life lost prior to age 75. Dodge County ranked 42nd in length of life in WI. Dodge County lost 6,704 years of potential life per 100,000 population which is higher than WI, but lower than the U.S. Jefferson lost 5,829 YPLL per 100,000 population, lower than WI and the U.S.

Reason for Smoking Ranking

Each year approximately 480,000 premature deaths can be attributed to smoking.¹ Cigarette smoking is identified as a cause of various cancers, cardiovascular disease, and respiratory conditions, as well as low birthweight and other adverse health outcomes. Measuring the prevalence of tobacco use in the population can alert communities to potential adverse health outcomes and can be valuable for assessing the need for cessation programs or the effectiveness of existing programs.

Following excerpt taken from American Lung Association website, www.lung.org, “The Impact of E-Cigarettes on the Lung”

In January 2018, the National Academies of Science, Engineering and Medicine¹ released a consensus study report that reviewed over 800 different studies.

That report made clear: using e-cigarettes causes health risks. It concluded that e-cigarettes both contain and emit a number of potentially toxic substances. The Academies’ report also states there is moderate evidence that youth who use e-cigarettes are at increased risk for cough and wheezing and an increase in asthma exacerbations.

A study from the University of North Carolina found that the two primary ingredients found in e-cigarettes—propylene glycol and vegetable glycerin—are toxic to cells and that the more ingredients in an e-liquid, the greater the toxicity.²

E-cigarettes produce a number of dangerous chemicals including acetaldehyde, acrolein, and formaldehyde. These aldehydes can cause lung disease, as well as cardiovascular (heart) disease.³

E-cigarettes also contain acrolein, a herbicide primarily used to kill weeds. It can cause acute lung injury and COPD and may cause asthma and lung cancer.⁴

2. There is a direct relationship between health outcomes and affluence (income and education). Those with the lowest income and education generally have the poorest health outcomes.
3. While any given measure may show an overall good picture of community health, subgroups such as the lower income census tracts may experience lower health status measures.
4. It will take a partnership with a wide range of organizations and citizens pooling resources to meaningfully impact the health of the community. However, the counties have many assets to improve health.

Prioritization of Health Needs

Prioritization Criteria

At the Community Health Summit, the attendees reviewed the community health information and used the criteria below to prioritize the health needs in the community.

Magnitude / scale of the problem	How big is the problem? How many people does the problem affect, either actually or potentially? In terms of human impact, how does it compare to other health issues?
Seriousness of Consequences	What degree of disability or premature death occurs because of this problem? What would happen if the issue were not made a priority? What is the level of burden on the community (economic, social or other)?
Feasibility	Is the problem preventable? How much change can be made? What is the community's capacity to address it? Are there available resources to address it sustainably? What's already being done, and is it working? What are the community's intrinsic barriers and how big are they to overcome?

Most Significant Community Health Needs

The following needs were prioritized by attendees at the Community Health Summit. Using a nominal group technique, each attendee received three sticky notes and selected their top three health needs and posted their ideas on paper at the front of the room. The results of the activity are below with higher numbers indicating the number of “votes” or priority by topic. The bullets below the health need are many of the comments received on the sticky notes.

1. Substance Use Disorders
2. Mental Health
